GOALS FOR MY OWN GROWTH AS A NURSE AND FOR THE PROFESSION.

I will become a certified nurse educator (CNE) within one year of graduating the MSN program at UMass Dartmouth.

I will attend workshops, conferences, and pursue further education to stay updated on the latest nursing trends, teaching methodologies, and healthcare advancements yearly.

I will participate in the development or revision of nursing curricula, integrating modern practices and ensuring students receive the most relevant and up-to-date education.

I will continuously encourage ongoing education and professional development within the nursing community to enhance skills, knowledge, and leadership potential.

GOALS THAT CAN BE ACHIEVED BY MYSELF AS A NURSE.

- Achieving CNE is powered by my personal motivation to obtain certification. Although, it is also dependent on availability of testing in my area.
- Encouraging ongoing education and professional development is entirely dependent on my ability to motivate my peer nurses to continue to aspire to a higher level of nursing through self awareness and education.

Goals which need external support or action.

- Attending workshops, conferences, and pursuing further education to stay updated on the latest nursing trends, teaching methodologies, and healthcare advancements relies on availability of conferences and seminars focused on enhancing the nurse educator's approach to teaching.
- Participating in the development or revision of nursing curricula, integrating modern practices and ensuring students receive the most relevant and up-to-date education is dependent on the Institution or University that I work for and their willingness to accept change.

MY VISION SUMMARY

<https://www.cottagehealth.org/nursing/professional-practice-model/>

- My overarching nursing vision is to empower patients through education and holistic care to promote their optimal health and wellness, while my personal vision is to mentor and prepare nursing students to excel in compassionate care, exhibit outstanding clinical judgment, and seamlessly transition into the nursing profession upon graduation.
- My professional goals are to obtain CNE certification within a year post-graduation, while annually engaging in continuous education through workshops and conferences to remain current on nursing trends. Additionally, I aim to actively contribute to updating nursing curricula, fostering ongoing professional development, and supporting the enhancement of skills and knowledge within the nursing community.
